Write an e-mail to your friend Oswald. You must include the following points and you must begin and end your e-mail appropriately.

Do not attempt to translate the instructions below word for word.

- Thank him for his postcard from France. It arrived three weeks ago and you wanted to reply earlier but you are very busy at work in the café. These days you start at six o'clock in the morning and finish at half past five. It's a very long day!
- You drive to work every morning and you enjoy the journey when the weather is good because the roads are empty. You listen to the news on the radio but you prefer music.
- When you arrive at the shop you drink a cup of tea before preparing the food and drink for the day. Lots of people stop on their way to work to buy sandwiches for their lunch. In the afternoon you sell tea, coffee and cakes.
- You want to visit Oswald in France in the summer. You will have to shut the café for a week but it will be good to have a holiday. You'd like to go to Paris and Versailles if it's not too far.

Role-play 1

You are at a car boot sale when a stallholder catches your eye. The examiner will play the part of the stallholder and speak first.

You say you are looking for books about computers.

[Stallholder has none, but points out computer magazines]

You say you haven't read them and ask how many he/she has.

[Stallholder says there are 20 and they are 15p each]

You say you're happy with that and ask how much the clocks are.

[Stallholder says £5 and asks if you might like to buy the red one]

You say no. You then say that you prefer the blue one, offer £10 for everything and ask if the stallholder has change.

[Stallholder says yes, gives you your change, the magazines and the clock]

You say they are very heavy and ask if the stallholder has a bag.

[Stallholder says no, but he/she has a box and asks if that is OK]]

You say that will be fine and then finish the conversation appropriately.

Role-play 2

You telephone the Hall for Cornwall to buy tickets for a play. The exmainer will play the part of the HfC agent and will speak first.

You give your name and say you would like to buy seven tickets for the new play 'Meriasek'.
 [The HfC agent asks if the tickets are for adults.]

You say there are three adults and four children under sixteen years of age.

[The HfC agent asks when you want to come to the play]

• You say your father wants to go on Saturday and ask if there is a performance in the afternoon. [The HfC agent says that there is and it starts at 2.30]

You ask if the HfC agent will send the tickets by post.

[The HfC agent says no, you must buy them on the day but seven tickets have been reserved for you]

You ask if the theatre is near to the station.

[The HfC agent says that it is almost a mile from the station]

 You say that will be a pleasant walk, but perhaps you'll go by bus and then end the conversation appropriately.

- You say you are looking for books about computers. [Stallholder has none, but points out computer magazines]
- You say you haven't read them and ask how many he/she has. [Stallholder says there are 20 and they are 15p each]
- You say you're happy with that and ask how much the clocks are.

[Stallholder says £5 and asks if you might like to buy the red one]

You say no. You then say that you prefer the blue one. You offer £10 for everything and ask if the stallholder has change.

[Stallholder says yes, gives you your change, the magazines and the clock]

You say they are very heavy and ask if the stallholder has a bag.

[Stallholder says no, but he/she has a box and asks if that is OK]]

 You say that will be fine and then finish the conversation appropriately.

Role-play 2

[The HfC agent asks if the tickets are for adults.]

 You say there are three adults and four children under sixteen years of age.

[The HfC agent asks when you want to come to the play]

• You say your father wants to go on Saturday and ask if there is a performance in the afternoon.

[The HfC agent says that there is and it starts at 2.30]

- You ask if the HfC agent will send the tickets by post. [The HfC agent says no, you must buy them on the day but seven tickets have been reserved for you]
- You ask if the theatre is near to the station.
 [The HfC agent says that it is almost a mile from the station]
- You say that will be a pleasant walk, but perhaps you'll go by bus and then end the conversation appropriately.
