Notennow (Notes)

- All words ending in -va are feminine (it indicates a place)*
- There are more masculine than feminine nouns in Cornish*
- The commonest way of forming the plural in Cornish is by adding -ow, the second most common is to add -yow*
- arall is the only adjective in Cornish to have a distinct plural erell*

An gador arall the other chair; an kaderyow erell the other chairs

5 You will have noticed lowarth byghan in the reading, this is 'garden small'; Cornish puts the adjective after the noun with very few exceptions. If the noun is feminine then the adjective is mutated (a 2nd mutation) the same thing will happen after a masculine plural noun of persons benyn + teg → benyn deg; studhyoryon + da → studhyoryon dha

6 Some prepositions in Cornish 'decline' i.e. they combine with the pronouns dhe (to):

dhymm to me	dhis to you (sing.)	dhodho to him	dhedhi to her
dhyn to us	dhywgh to you (plural)	dhedha to them

7 yma means there is or there are.

It answers the question Ple'ma ...? Where is ...?

Ple'ma an chi? Yma'n chi yn Truru. Where is the house? There is the house in Truro/The house is in Truro

Yma kador y'n stevell. There is a chair in the room

Yma kadoryow y'n stevell. There are chairs in the room

Note ple'ma'n = ple yma an; yma'n = yma an there is the y'n = yn an in the

Exercise A1 Please answer questions in Cornish

Chi Alan

1 Ple'ma an stevell omwolghi?

2 Ple'ma an bisva?

3 Ple'ma an karrji?

Chi Brenda

4 Ple'ma an stevellow-omwolghi?

5 Ple'ma an soedhva?

6 Ple'ma an bellwolok?

7 Ple'ma an poll-neuvya?

8 Ple'ma an sinema?

Exercise A2 Translate

1 A big house

6 studhyores dha

2 a pretty girl

7 dyskador drog

3 the pretty girl

8 an venyn verr

4 black hair

9 an gador vras

5 a small car

10 an gegin vyghan

Part B To have

Cornish tends to avoid the use of the verb 'to have' instead using the expression 'there (it) is to me' or 'there (it) is with me'.

I have a dog Yma ki dhymm (there is a dog to me)

He has a cat Yma kath dhodho. (there is a cat to him)

The man has a car Yma karr gans an gour (there is a car with the man)

There is a subtle difference between Yma ki dhymm and Yma ki genev. The first implies the dog is owned by me and the latter implies the dog is with me.

Gans with

genev with me	genes with you	ganso with him	gensy with her
genen with us	genowgh with you	gansa with them

Notice the endings

1 p s my	dhymm	genev	The 'm' is unusual
2 p s ty	dhis	genes	usual 2nd person singular ending
3 p s ev	dhodho	ganso	usual 3rd person singular masculine ending
3 p s hi	dhedhi	genshi	usual 3rd person singular feminine ending
1 p pl ni	dhyn	genen	usual 1st person plural ending
2 p pl hwi	dhywgh	genowgh	usual 2nd person plural ending
3 p pl i	dhedha	gansa	usual 3rd person plural ending

Exercise B1

Translate

1 Yma ki dhedhi.

5 Peter has (owns) a dog.

2 Yma chi dhyn

6 We have a computer

3 Yma flogh genev

7 They have a swimming pool

4 Yma skath dhe Jowan

8 You (sing.) have a book.

Part C To have to

This is rendered in Cornish by 'necessary is to me.' Res yw dhymm

Res yw dhymm I must	Res yw dhis You must	Res yw dhodho He must	Res yw dhedhi She must
Res yw dhyn We must	Res yw dhywgh You must	Res yw dhedha They must

So 'I must go to London' is 'Res yw dhymm mos dhe Loundres.'

*Reading

Read the following passage adapted from Bora Brav Rannas 3 Kynsa Kentel.

Mester Tomas: Dydh da, Andi. Fatla genes?
 Andi: Dydh da, yn poynt da ov, meur ras ha genes jy*?
 Mester Tomas: Da lowr, mes den koth ov, lemmyn.
 Andi: Mes kellys ov. Ple'ma kres an dre, mar pleg?
 Mester Tomas: Arta mar pleg! Nebes bodhar ov.
 Andi: Mes kellys ov. Ple'ma kres an dre?
 Mester Tomas: Ena, yma'n eglos vras yn kres an dre.
 Andi: Meur ras. Usi an eglos ryb an varghas?
 Mester Tomas: Usi, yma'n eglos ryb an varghas.
 Andi: Eus gorvarghas omma yn ogas?
 Mester Tomas: Eus, yma gorvarghas yn Stret Nowydh.
 Andi: Hag eus lytherva ryb an eglos?
 Mester Tomas: Nag eus, nyns eus lytherva ryb an eglos, yma'n lytherva ryb an skol.
 Andi: Meur ras dhis.

*jy merely emphasises the genes and isn't really translatable into English. You will hear people say 'ha ty' instead of 'genes jy'; ha ty is much more common than genes (jy).

1 Adjectives

Adjectives mutate (2nd/soft/lenition) after feminine nouns, and after masculine plurals of persons) the table is repeated here:

	b	ch	d	ga	ge	gl	gr	gw	gy	go	gu	gro	gru	k	m	p	t
2nd	v	j	dh	a	e	l	r	w	y	wo	wu	wro	wru	g	v	b	d

Ki + bras = ki bras (ki is masculine so the adjective does not mutate)

Kador + rudh = kador rudh (words beginning with 'r' never mutate)

Kador + bras = kador vras (b → v as shown in the table as kador is feminine)

Eglos + bras = eglos vras

Studhyoryon + da = studhyoryon dha (studhyoryon is a masculine plural of people)

But adjectives beginning with k, p or t do not mutate after nouns ending with s or th

So mowes vras but mowes teg

2 yma, usi and eus all these words have the meaning is (as well as yw)
 Yma means there is or there are, and is used to indicate position
 Yma eglos y'n dre There is a church in the town
 Yma kadoryow y'n stevell There are chairs in the room

But yma is not used in the negative or in questions

(i) Negatives

Nyns eus eglos y'n dre There is not a church in the town
 (not is church in the town)

Nyns eus kadoryow y'n stevell There are not chairs in the room

 (Not is the church in New Street)

Nyns usi an kadoryow y'n stevell The chairs are not in the room
 (Not is the chairs in the room)

The difference between eus and usi is that the former is indefinite and the latter is definite nyns eus = not is (a) nyns usi = not is the

(ii) Interrogatives

Eus eglos y'n dre? Is there a church in the town?

Eus kadoryow y'n stevell? Are there chairs in the room?

Usi an eglos yn Stret Nowydh? Is the church in New Street?
